What to do if you get scammed

If you suspect you've fallen victim to a scam, it's crucial to take immediate action to protect yourself. First, contact your bank or financial institution right away. Inform them of the situation and request to enhance the security of your current account to prevent further unauthorized withdrawals or transactions.

How do I check out a company?
For reviewing businesses, several important sites include Yelp, the Better Business Bureau (BBB), Google Business, HomeAdvisor, and Nextdoor. These platforms offer insights from customers and can help you assess a company's reputation and legitimacy.

How to check if a site is legit?

- Look for typos or unusual characters. A secure site should start with "https://" and display a padlock icon.
- Verify the SSL certificate: Click on the padlock icon next to the URL to view the SSL certificate. Make sure it's valid and matches the website's domain.
- Check for spelling and grammar errors: Legitimate websites typically have professional-quality content. Frequent errors could indicate a scam.
